Bereavement Support

The Circle of Life Community Hospice is here to support you through your loss. We understand the feelings and emotions that may arise during your grief and bereavement process and hope that you will allow us to serve you by utilizing services available through the Circle of Life.

We provide groups and workshops which are open to all that are bereaved in our community. We also provide individual sessions for the family members of Circle of Life patients.

First and Third Tuesdays of every month, we provide an open forum support group to share our feelings as we move through the grieving process. 5:30-7:30 pm.

Second and Fourth Wednesdays of each month we provide a “Book Study.” The reading material will be geared towards healing after loss. We will explore a new book approximately every two months. Discussion and sharing about the book will be from 3:30-5:00 pm. Please do not hesitate to join this group at any time for lively discussion. You are welcome even if you have not read the book. More detailed information about the current book is posted in our quarterly Bereavement Newsletter, which is available on the Circle of Life Community Hospice website.

Monthly Workshops are offered on a variety of subjects. Please refer to the current Bereavement Newsletter, which is available on the Circle of Life Community Hospice website, for our upcoming workshops, dates and times.

Please contact Dr. Karen Turck, D.D., PhD for more information regarding our weekly groups or if you would like to participate in our monthly workshops. 775-827-2298
